

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Watches of cellular telephones lack high-quality and fashionable appearance.

According to the present invention, a cellular telephone includes a flip casing divided in two pieces by a hinge, a display and a speaker on the side of a display, an operation panel and a microphone on an operating side, and an analog quartz watch on an outer surface with the casing closed. This adds high-quality or fashionable appearance like a mechanical analog watch.